In 2015, Reggie Cabal found himself suddenly as the CEO of ORIX Australia at a challenging time - the organisation faced a significant reputational change as well as looming disruption in the industry. Drawing on Silicon Valley experience, Reggie set the organisation's recovery strategy around Innovation and Diversity.

In early 2016, Reggie bought Mary Moran on board as General Manager Technology and Innovation to help execute his new vision. In 2017, ORIX was first recognised for their innovation in the AFR 50 Most Innovative Companies List - and recognised again in 2018.

Mary will share her experience of this spectacular recovery and the cultural journey the organisation has been on.

About our Keynote Speakers

Greg Italiano, Government Chief Information Officer, Office of Digital Government

Greg was appointed to the role of Government Chief Information Officer in December 2018. Prior to taking up the appointment he was the Executive Director of Corporate Services in the Department of Justice.

Greg has over 15 years of public sector experience and worked in several senior executive roles, including in the WA Police and the Departments of Health, Justice and Treasury. He has planned and delivered on a range of reforms, including those for which ICT was a key enabling component. Mary Moran, General Manager Business Solutions, ORIX Australia Corporation Limited

Mary started her innovation adventures in the resources sector working in Mincom's global team which took her to all corners of the globe, implementing Enterprise Asset Management solutions. A highlight was successfully establishing the HR and Payroll solution in the North American market. Eventually tiring of long haul travel she moved into banking and financial services working with Macquarie Bank where she worked as part of an executive team that turned around a distressed business. Mary joined ORIX Australia as GM of Technology and Innovation, in early 2016 and last year moved into a business role where as GM Business Solutions she has responsibility for Product, Marketing as well as the Novated and SME Leasing Business Units.
